"Miss Washington" Entrants
Will Again Be Shown
In Movies.

Week beginning September 6. It gives me great pleasure to accept your invitation.

"I am not entering the competition conducted by The Washington Herald this year for the choice of 'Miss Washington' but I shall be glad to take part in the pageant in the role, as you suggest, of the Winner of the Golden Mermaid of the 1921 Pageant."

"Again assuring you of the pleasure which your letter has given me, I am, sincerely yours,

"MARGARET H. GORMAN."

Motion Pictures Taken.

Motion pictures of Miss Gorman were taken yesterday noon at the home of A. H. Ferguson, in Chevy Chase, Md., by the National Pictorial News. They will be shown, with those of many candidates to be this year's "Miss Washington," at Keith's, Columbia, and Palace theaters on or after August 6.

With unprecedented crowds expected September 6, 7 and 8 at Atlantic City, when the famous pageant will welcome "Miss Washington" to a pageant of nationwide importance, word has been received that one of the finest hotels along the Boardwalk has reserved a luxurious suite of rooms facing the sea for the use of "Miss Washington" and her chaperone.

Like last year, "Miss Washington" will be selected through The Washington Herald. Young women who aspire to the honor are submitting their photographs to the Art Editor of The Herald, who will keep them until August 26, when they will be turned over to the line judges for preliminary selection.

Pictures Appear Daily.

In the meantime, The Herald will publish many of the pictures, and many prospective "Miss Washingtons" will be photographed by the National Pictorial News Company, which is co-operating with the Thomas H. Ince Company to give these young women an opportunity to appear on the screen.

When the judges narrow their field of choice to ten of the most attractive young women they will interview the ten in person, and will note carefully their grace, naturalness, poise and personal charm. After this searching test they will pick the most attractive as "Miss Washington."

"Miss Washington" will have three days of intensive social activity in the center of a group of social leaders, where she will be privileged to meet some of the most brilliant members of the younger set. Washington's choice must necessarily be a young woman of the utmost refinement and natural charm. She need not, however, be wealthy. The trip will be no expense to her, and all preparations for new frocks and costumes, to assure her being the best-dressed woman on the Boardwalk, will be attended to by Washington merchants.

Pascent on Huge Scale.

Preparations for the pascent are even more elaborate than last year. Nearly $100,000 will be spent to buy trophies for the winning beauties, to provide spectacular fireworks and the best talent for the outdoor carnival, and to pay every expense of the visiting young women.

Atlantic City for three days will be the focus of Eastern society.

"O, Tell Me, Pretty Maidens, Are There Any More At Home Like You?"

Will one of these beautiful young women be "Miss Washington"? Their pictures were selected for publication today from among the portraits of pulchritudinous aspirants. They are, left to right, Miss Hazel Burke, 1904 Calvert street; Miss Edith McClellan, 1004 Twenty-fourth street northwest; Miss Ruth Leonard, 1730 M street northwest.

Memorable function after memorable function will occur during the pageant period, and the visiting beauties will be the center of every one.

Arrangements are being completed to have well-known and distinguished men and women from four or five States act as patrons and patronesses of the pageant. The best of nationally-known artists and critics will be judges in the national beauty competition. Every detail of the plans has been carefully thought out to make the pageant the most delightful of fashionable affairs of the early autumn season.

TOWNSEND SEES DEMOCRATIC PLOT

Charges They Intend to Vote
In Republican Primary
September 12.

ESCANABA, Mich., July 27.—Senator Townsend opened fire tonight on another alleged conspiracy of Democratic leaders in Michigan to manipulate the selection of a Republican candidate for Senator in the Republican primary September 12.

Speaking in this important railway and labor center, he defended the Esch-Cummings transportation act, including the creation of the Railway Labor Board. The Senator assailed reputed maneuvers of Democratic leaders to further the candidacy of Herbert Baker, a radical Republican, for the Republican nomination.

Mr. Townsend charged that Democrats are preparing to vote in the Republican primary with a view to bringing about the nomination of Baker. There is no contest in the Democratic primary, which will name former Gov. Ferris.

Particular significance was given to these charges by the Senator at this place because William Finnegan, who formerly was a member of the Democratic State central committee, was the chairman of the Grand Rapids meeting of the Progressive Voters' League, which launched the movement for Baker.

Mrs. Poling Again Sues
John S. Case Estate

Mrs. Lula V. Poling, who lost one lawsuit against the estate of the late John S. Case, began another yesterday in the District Supreme Court. This time she seeks to recover from Tracy L. Jeffords, administrator of the estate, and the Lincoln National Bank, jewelry and liberty bonds valued at $10,000 which she claims are being unlawfully kept from her.

The first suit was for $12,230, an amount claimed by her for services as nurse and housekeeper extending over a score of years. Case died at an advanced age. He was a well known character, having for many years owned a telescope which he wheeled nightly to Pennsylvania avenue northwest, where he permitted stargazers to look through it for 10 cents.
